

Hormones Cause Changes In The Female

Pituitary Gland

FSH travels through the bloodstream and targets the ovaries.
FSH stimulates the egg cells to mature which causes the cells to produce estrogen. Estrogen will cause the changes in the female.

This diagram is not to scale. It is meant to connect, by pictures, those organs which work together to cause hormonal changes in the female.