

Dwell on what children do right instead of what they do wrong.

Let's notice when our children do well.

Let's tell them that we admire their talents, abilities, and manners; their friendship skills, intelligence and kindness.

Let's talk to them about the good things we observe in them and encourage them in their activities and interests.

Giving them encouragement today can help raise healthy, caring, responsible children and build a brighter future.

Teach young people to be responsible for their thoughts, words & actions.

When you involve children in activities with other adults who model good positive values, you can show them how to develop these values for themselves.

Showing them positive values today can help raise healthy, caring, responsible children and build a brighter future.

Together We Can Value Every Kid.
